optical
emission spectrometer
with true
computer control
at a new low cost!

Model 750
Atom Comp™
offers direct concentration printout

Production personnel will find the AtomComp easy to understand and use. The usual multiplicity of knobs and switches has been replaced by a few straightforward two-letter coded commands. Standardization is done automatically, and matrix switching is virtually instantaneous.

No time is spent or errors made in calculating or recording data. Averaging of two or more analyses on the same sample is done automatically.

Analytical results are printed directly in per cent concentration or parts per million.

Accuracy is enhanced by automatic background compensation and improved measuring system precision.

The pretested solid-state electronics, and a computer that has proven its reliability in over 14,000 installations, ensure long trouble-free service.
